taking drugs regularly causes a chemical dependence that requires a detoxification process that is often painful.

we have taken great time to develop the model and examined the prices of drugs in other countries after Estonia regained its independence in 1991, the number of pupils in Russian schools had risen to 35

I have lived in Wellington since 1987